The Library of Congress homepage is organized logically into three columns, corresponding loosely with “Who We Are,” “What We Have,” and “What We Do.” The following is an overview of the type of information that can be found in each column.

- ① Section 1 is the Library of Congress Website dropdown menu. Use it to quickly access the most popular and useful links, including one specifically for Education.

Column #1 Who We Are

- ② Section 2 is the global search feature. Users can search the entire website, refining their search by format, subject, contributor, date language and more.
- ③ Section 3, “About the Library,” contains a slider of featured exhibits and topics. Users can click an images to access the featured item.
- ④ “Visit the Library,” features information about planning a visit to the Library of Congress in Washington, D.C.
- ⑤ Section 5 highlights current exhibitions featured at the Library of Congress, as well as a link to interactive digital versions of past exhibitions.

Column #2 What We Have

- ⑥ “Collection Highlights,” contains a selection of some of the most popular Library of Congress collections, along with a useful topical menu to the right.
- ⑦ Section 7, “Featured Webcasts,” highlights videos from a variety of topics and personalities. Click on More Webcasts to access the archive.
- ⑧ Section 8, “Explore & Discover,” features frequently updated informational and educational content. Click on Blogs for a variety of unique topical perspectives.
