STOCK MARKET GAME

Complimentary e-Appeal Access

The Stock Market Game teaches students to think and how to make decisions based on world events. In studying the economy, they'll learn skills in the areas of math, social studies, economics, life skills, business education, and technology.

The Commercial Appeal's Stock Market Game involves teams of two to five students in grades 4-12 who invest a hypothetical $100,000 in the New York and American Stock Exchanges, and the NASDAQ. Each week, the excitement builds as teams receive portfolio value updates that show how they're doing compared with other teams at their grade level.

The Stock Market Game contest this year is September 28 through December 4. It is made available through a partnership with Middle Tennessee State University. All materials and e-Appeal access are complimentary, thanks to the generosity of our sponsor, First Tennessee.

Participating teachers will receive a grant of up to 5 teams as well as e-Appeal access Sundays through Fridays. There will be no delivery of newspapers to the schools. Thanks to First Tennessee, this grant is available for the first 425 teams.

Contact Maria Edlin at 615-898-5291 to pay team fees if you wish to sign up for more than the 5 teams we provide, or if we inform you that 425 teams have already signed up.

Teachers are required to sign up for The Commercial Appeal's e-Appeal digital edition in order to participate in the Stock Market Game. If you have already filled out an order form for the e-Appeal this school year, please do not sign up again.

So, there are two registrations: one with The Commercial Appeal and one with Middle Tennessee State University.
