

Could lawyer plea deals topple Trump?

Guy Parsons / Courtesy of Cagle.com

1. How do these cartoonists illustrate recent guilty plea deals by co-defendants in the Georgia racketeering case against former President Donald Trump?
2. Trump lashed out at "weaklings and cowards" for making plea deals. Is it acceptable to attack potential witnesses against you?
3. Does Trump have a right to say anything he likes even if it sparks a violent attack or prejudices jurors?
4. In a civil case last week, Trump was fined $10,000 for contempt of court. Are fines likely to affect him?
5. How many criminal charges and trials is Trump facing?
6. Would any criminal conviction sway many of Trump's supporters?

Between the lines

"This is incredibly bad news for Donald Trump and not news ... that he can spin ... these are his handpicked MAGA, Kraken, whackjob lawyers." - Neal Katyal, legal analyst.

<https://www.newsweek.com/neal-katyal-explains-trumps-lawyers-no-jail-guilty-pleas-1836698>

Additional resources

■ More by Guy Parsons

<https://www.cagle.com/author/guy-parsons/>

■ More by John Cole

<https://www.cagle.com/author/john-cole/>

■ Editorial Cartoonists

<http://editorialcartoonists.com/>

John Cole / Courtesy of Cagle.com